

A satellite image showing a series of terraced agricultural fields on a hillside. The fields are arranged in a stepped pattern, following the contours of the land. The color of the fields varies from light brown to dark green, indicating different stages of crop growth or different types of crops. A winding road or path is visible on the left side of the image, and a small, dark, irregularly shaped area is visible in the upper right corner. The overall terrain is hilly and appears to be in a rural or agricultural setting.
